2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

The significant accounting policies followed by the Company in the preparation of the accompanying consolidated financial statements are summarized as follows:

Basis of Consolidated Financial Statement Presentation

The Company maintains its official accounting records in Korean won and prepares statutory consolidated financial statements in the Korean language in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the Republic of Korea. Certain accounting principles applied by the Company that conform with financial accounting standards and accounting principles in the Republic of Korea may not conform with generally accepted accounting principles in other countries. Accordingly, these consolidated financial statements are intended for use by those who are informed about Korean accounting principles and practices. The accompanying consolidated financial statements have been condensed, restructured and translated into English from the Korean language consolidated financial statements. Certain information attached to the Korean language financial statements, but not required for a fair presentation of the Company's financial position, results of operations or cash flows, is not presented in the accompanying consolidated financial statements.

Accounting Estimates

The preparation of the consolidated financial statements requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect amounts reported therein. Although these estimates are based on management's best knowledge of current events and actions that the Company may undertake in the future, actual results may differ from those estimates.

Application of the Statements of Korean Financial Accounting Standards

The Korean Accounting Standards Board has published a series of Statements of Korean Financial Accounting Standards ("SKFAS"), which will gradually replace the existing financial accounting standards established by the Korean Financial Supervisory Commission. As SKFAS No. 15 through 17 became applicable to the Company on January 1, 2005, the Company adopted these Standards in its financial statements as of and for the year ended December 31, 2005.

And as SKFAS No. 18 through 20 became effective for the Company on January 1, 2006, the Company adopted these Standards in its financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2006.

Principles of Consolidation

The fiscal year end of the consolidated subsidiaries is the same as that of the Controlling Company. Differences in accounting policy between the Controlling Company and consolidated subsidiaries are adjusted during consolidation.

LG Electronics Inc. and Subsidiaries
Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements
December 31, 2006 and 2005

---

The accompanying consolidated financial statements include the accounts of LGE and its subsidiaries. Under the financial accounting standards for consolidated financial statements in the Republic of Korea, a company is regarded as a subsidiary of another if more than 50% of its issued share capital is held by the other company, or more than 30% of its issued share capital is held by the other company and that company is the largest shareholder. In cases where there are two or three investors with more than 30% ownership in the issued share capital of an investee and such investors, individually, are the largest shareholders, the investor, which belongs to a conglomerate along with the investee as defined by Monopoly Regulation and Fair Trade Act in the Republic of Korea, is required to consolidate such investee. Investments in 20% to 50% owned affiliated companies or investments in affiliated companies over which the Company exerts a significant influence are accounted for using the equity method. Under the equity method, the original investment is recorded at cost and adjusted by the Company's share in the undistributed earnings or losses of these companies.

All significant intercompany transactions and balances with consolidated subsidiaries have been eliminated during consolidation.

To eliminate the investment account of the controlling company and corresponding capital accounts of subsidiaries, the purchase method or the pooling of interest method is applied, depending on the nature of the transaction. In using the purchase method, when the Company has a control over a subsidiary, the Company records differences between the initial investment accounts and corresponding capital accounts of subsidiaries as goodwill or negative goodwill, which is amortized over five years using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives, which range from five to ten years. When the Company has a significant influence over equity method investees, differences between the initial investment accounts and corresponding capital accounts of equity method investees are also amortized over five years using the straight-line method.

Unrealized profit included in inventories, property, plant and equipment and other assets as a result of intercompany transactions is eliminated. Unrealized profit arising from sales by the controlling company to consolidated subsidiaries or equity method investees is fully eliminated and charged to the equity of the controlling company. Unrealized profit, arising from sales by the consolidated subsidiaries or equity method investees to the controlling company or sales between consolidated subsidiaries or equity method investees, is fully eliminated and charged to the equity of the controlling company and minority interest based on the percentage of ownership ratio.

The Company records the equity of the consolidated subsidiaries, which is not included in the equity of the controlling company, as a minority interest in consolidated subsidiaries. In addition, if losses of the consolidated subsidiaries included in minority interest are in excess of minority interest, the deficit in excess of minority interest is charged to the equity of the controlling company. Until losses charged to the equity of the controlling company are recovered, all gains on related consolidated subsidiaries are recognized in the equity of the controlling company.

Revenue Recognition

Revenues from finished products and merchandise are recognized when goods are delivered and most of the risks and benefits associated with the possession of goods are substantially transferred. Revenue from installation service contracts is recognized using the percentage-of-completion method.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

The Company considers cash on hand, bank deposits and highly liquid marketable securities with original maturities of three months or less to be cash and cash equivalents.

Investments in Securities

The Company accounts for equity and debt securities under the provisions of SKFAS No. 8, Investments in Securities. This statement requires investments in equity and debt securities to be classified into three categories: trading, available-for-sale and held-to-maturity.

Securities are initially carried at cost, including incidental expenses, with cost being determined using the gross average method. Debt securities, which the Company has the intent and ability to hold to maturity, are generally carried at cost, adjusted for the amortization of discounts or premiums. Premiums and discounts on debt securities are amortized over the term of the debt using the effective interest rate method. Trading and available-for-sale securities are carried at fair value, except for non-marketable securities classified as available-for-sale securities whose fair value may not be determined, which are carried at cost. Non-marketable debt securities are carried at a value using the present value of future cash flows, discounted at a reasonable interest rate determined considering the credit ratings by independent credit rating agencies.

Unrealized valuation gains or losses on trading securities are charged to current operations, and those resulting from available-for-sale securities are charged to capital adjustments, the accumulated amount of which shall be charged to current operations when the related securities are sold, or when an impairment loss on the securities is recognized. Impairment losses are recognized in the statement of income when the recoverable amounts are less than the acquisition cost of securities or adjusted cost of debt securities after the amortization of discounts or premiums.

Equity Method Investments

Investments in equity securities of companies, over which the Company exercises significant control or influence, are recorded using the equity method of accounting. Under the equity method, the Company records changes in its proportionate ownership in the book value of the investee in current operations, as capital adjustments or as adjustments to retained earnings, depending on the nature of the underlying change in book value of the investee.

The Company discontinues the equity method of accounting for investments when the Company's share in the accumulated losses of the investees equals the costs of the investments, and until the subsequent cumulative changes in its proportionate net income of the investees equal its cumulative proportionate net losses not recognized during the periods when the equity method was suspended.

Differences between the initial purchase price and the Company's initial proportionate ownership in the net book value of the investee are amortized over five years using the straight-line method, and the amortization is charged to current operations. In addition, proportionate share in the difference between fair value of the investee's identifiable assets (liabilities) and book value is amortized according to the investee's accounting for the assets and liabilities.

Unrealized profit included in inventories and property, plant and equipment from transactions between the Company and equity method investees is calculated based on gross margin by product and eliminated considering the percentage of ownership. However, unrealized profit arising from sales by the Company to equity method investees which are its consolidated subsidiaries is fully eliminated. Unrealized profit arising from sales between equity method investees is also eliminated considering the percentage of ownership.

Allowance for Doubtful Accounts

The Company provides an allowance for doubtful accounts based on the aggregate estimated collectibility of the accounts.

Inventories

Inventories are stated at the lower of cost or market, with cost being determined using the weighted-average method, except for inventories in-transit which is determined using the specific identification method. If the net realizable value of inventory is less than its cost, a contra inventory account representing the valuation loss, is to reduce the inventory to its net realizable value. The valuation loss is recorded as cost of sales. If, however, the circumstances which caused the valuation loss cease to exist, causing the market value to rise above the carrying amount, the valuation loss is reversed limited to the original carrying amount before valuation. The reversal is a deduction from cost of sales.

In 2006, the Controlling Company changed its method of determining the cost of inventory from the yearly-average cost method to the monthly-average cost method. Since the Company cannot determine the cumulative effect of applying the new accounting policy to all prior periods, it was accounted for applying prospectively from the start of the earliest period practicable. The financial statements as of and for the year ended December 31, 2005, have not been restated to reflect this change.

Foreign Currency Translation

Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into Korean won at the exchange rates in effect at the balance sheet date (₩929.6: US$1 as of December 31, 2006 and ₩1,013: US$1 as of December 31, 2005), and resulting translation gains or losses are recognized in current operations. However, convertible bonds in foreign currency are translated into Korean won at the agreed rate of exchange, considering the exercise of conversion rights by the creditors.

Foreign currency financial statements of consolidated subsidiaries and equity method investees are translated into Korean won using the exchange rates in effect at the balance sheet date for assets and liabilities, historical exchange rate at the date of transaction for shareholder's equity, and average monthly exchange rates for income and expenses. Any resulting translation gain or loss is included in shareholders' equity.

Property, Plant and Equipment

Property, plant and equipment are recorded at cost, less accumulated depreciation. Depreciation is computed using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets.

Routine maintenance and repairs are charged to current operations as incurred. Betterments and renewals which enhance the value of the assets over their most recently appraised value are capitalized.

The Company assesses the potential impairment of property, plant and equipment when there is evidence that events or changes in circumstances have made the recovery of an asset's carrying value to be unlikely, and recognizes an impairment loss when the carrying value of an asset exceeds the value of its future economic benefits. The carrying value of the impaired assets is reduced to the estimated realizable value, and an impairment loss is recorded as a reduction in the carrying value of the related asset and charged to current operations. However, the recovery of the impaired assets is recorded in current operations up to the cost of the assets, net of accumulated depreciation before impairment, when the estimated value of the assets exceeds the carrying value after impairment.

LG Electronics Inc. and Subsidiaries

---

In 2005, the Controlling Company reduced its estimate of the useful lives of moulds in Digital appliance division from five years to two years. The Company believes that the new estimate more accurately reflects the results of technological changes. This change resulted in an increase in depreciation for the year ended December 31, 2005, by ₩101,816 million.

Intangible Assets

Intangible assets are stated at acquisition cost, net of accumulated amortization. Acquisition cost is the total of the production or purchase cost and other incidental expenses. Amortization is computed using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives, which range from five to ten years.

The Company assesses the potential impairment of intangible assets when there is evidence that events or changes in circumstances have made the recovery of an asset's carrying value to be unlikely. An impairment loss is recorded as a reduction in the carrying value of the related asset and charged to current operations. However, the recovery of the impaired assets is recorded in current operations up to the cost of the asset, net of amortization before impairment, when the estimated value of the assets exceeds the carrying value after impairment.

Research and Development Costs

Research costs are expensed as incurred. Development costs directly relating to a new technology or new products, for which the estimated future benefits are probable, are recognized as intangible assets. Amortization of development costs is computed using the straight-line method over five years from the commencement of the commercial production of the related products. Such costs are subject to continual analysis of recoverability. In the event that such amounts are not estimated to be recoverable, they are written down to their net realizable value.

Borrowing Costs

Interest and other financial costs incurred on borrowings used to acquire property, plant and equipment, intangible assets and investments are all charged to expense as incurred.

Derivative Financial Instruments

The Company utilizes several derivative financial instruments ("derivatives") such as forward exchanges, swaps and option contracts to reduce its exposure resulting from fluctuations in foreign currency and interest rates. The derivatives are carried at fair market value. Unrealized gains or losses on derivatives for trading or fair value hedging purposes are recorded in current operations. Unrealized gains or losses on derivatives for cash flow hedging purposes are recorded in current operations for the portion of the hedge that is not effective. For the portions of cash flow hedges which are effective, unrealized gains or losses are accounted for in the capital adjustments account and recorded in current operations in the period when the underlying transactions have an effect on operations.

Convertible Bonds

The Company recorded the equity component of the convertible bonds (conversion rights) by deduction the fair value of the liability component from the issue proceeds. The liability component is shown gross with the full face amount recorded as liability and a contra adjustment account (conversion rights adjustment) as a deduction from the liability to arrive at a net amount equal to its fair value. The Company is obligated to pay guaranteed interest if and when the convertible bond matures without exercise and has accrued this interest if and when the convertible bond matures without exercise and has accrued this interest as an adjustment to the carrying value of the liability component.

Discounts (Premiums) on Debentures

Discounts (premiums) on debentures are amortized using the effective interest rate method over the repayment period of the debentures. The amortized amount is included in interest expense.

Treasury Stock

Treasury stock are stated at cost and recorded as a capital adjustment in shareholders' equity. Gain on disposal of treasury stock is recorded as a capital surplus. Any loss on disposal of treasury stock is offset against prior gains on disposal of treasury stock included in capital surplus. The remaining loss is offset against retained earnings.

Stock Appreciations plan

Compensation costs for stock options granted to employees and executives are recognized on the basis of intrinsic value. Under the intrinsic value basis method, compensation costs for stock option plans are determined by calculating the difference between the exercise price and the market price of the underlying stock. Stock-based compensation cost is remeasured at each reporting date, based on the intrinsic value of the award, and is recognized as expense over the agreed minimum service period.

Product Warranty

The Company provides warranties against product defects for a specified period of time after sale. Estimated costs of product warranties are charged to current operations at the time of sale and are included in the accompanying consolidated balance sheets as a product warranty reserve.

Accrued Severance Benefits

Employees and directors with at least one year of service are entitled to receive a lump-sum severance payment upon termination of their employment with LGE and its domestic subsidiaries, based on their length of service and rate of pay at the time of termination. Accrued severance benefits represent the amount which would be payable assuming all eligible employees and directors were to terminate their employment as of the balance sheet date.

Contributions made under the National Pension Plan and severance insurance deposits are deducted from accrued severance benefits. Contributed amounts are refunded from the National Pension Plan and the insurance companies to employees upon their retirement.

Overseas subsidiaries accrue employees' retirement benefits according to the local regulations in which they operate.

Income Taxes

The Company recognizes deferred income taxes for anticipated future tax consequences resulting from temporary differences between the financial reporting and tax bases of assets and liabilities. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are computed on such temporary differences, including available net operating loss carryforwards and tax credits, by applying enacted statutory tax rates applicable to the years when such differences are expected to be reversed. Deferred income tax assets are recognized to the extent that it is almost certain that such deferred income tax assets will be realized.

The total income tax provision includes the current income tax expense under applicable tax regulations and the change in the balance of deferred income tax assets and liabilities during the period. However, the tax effects of certain items occurring during the period and relating to components of shareholders' equity are charged or credited directly to related components of shareholders' equity.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

---

Tax credits for investments and development of research and manpower are accounted for using the flow-through method, whereby income taxes are reduced in the period the assets that gave rise to such credits are placed in service. To the extent such credits are not currently utilized, deferred income tax assets, subject to realizability as stated above, are recognized for the carryforward amount.

Sale of Accounts and Notes Receivable

The Company sells certain accounts and notes receivable to financial institutions at a discount, and accounts for the transactions as a sale of the receivables, if the rights and obligations relating to the receivables are substantially transferred to the buyers. The losses from the sale of the receivables are charged to current operations as incurred.

Government grants

Government grants, which are to be repaid, are recognized as liabilities. Government grants, which are not required to be repaid and are intended to be used for the acquisition of assets, are deducted from the cost of the specified assets after their acquisition. Cash received in relation to grants given prior to the acquisition of assets is included in the cash balance but with an equal and opposite contra adjustment.

The government grants, contributed to compensate for specific expenses, are offset against the related expenses. Other government grants, for which the use or purpose is not specified, are recorded as gains from assets received, and are recognized in current operations.

Present Value Discount

The difference between the nominal value and the present value of long-term receivable and payables is amortized using the effective interest rate method with interest income or expense adjusted accordingly.

Duty Refunds

The Company records duty refunds as a deduction from cost of sales.

Lease Transactions

Lease agreements that include a bargain purchase option, result in the transfer of ownership at the end of the lease term, have a term longer than 75% of the estimated economic life of the leased property, or have a present value of the minimum lease payments at the beginning of the lease term amounting to more than 90% of the fair value of the leased property, are accounted for as capital leases. Leases that do not meet these criteria are accounted for as operating leases, of which the total minimum lease payments are charged to expense over the lease period on a straight-line basis.
